PROPOSALS FOR IMPROVING THE HARBOR OF Providence, Rhode Island.—Brincer Lepartment, Washington, May 18, 1853. Proposals will be received at this office until the 18th June next, for removing the shoal at and easier the terock in the harbor of Providence, Rhode Island, and opening a straight channel from Fox Point to the main one below by dredging machinary—the channel to be 180 feet wide, and excavated to nine feet deep at mean low water, the mean distance requiring to be deepened being two hundred and eighty yards.

The shoal is compessed of mud, sand, and some shells. The wide, and excavated to nine feet deep at mean low water, the mean distance requiring to be deepened being two hundred and eighty yards.

The shoal is composed of mud, sand, and some shells. The material excavated, which is to be delivered into suitable seews for measurement, may be deposited on the fists to the westward, or on those to too eastward of the main channel, so as not to interfere with the navigation or private interests, the distence to which it will require to be taken being about three hundred yards.

The mean rise of the tide is six feet, giving fifteen feet greatest depth of water generally in which the machinery will be required to operate.

The channel is to be indicated or marked out, and the work is to be superintended by an officer of the United States engineer department.

The amount of material to be removed is estimated at 13,000 cable yards, but the engineer department reserves the privilege of varying this amount, so as to bring its cost within the limits of the appropriation for this improvement.

Payments will be made montbly, and at the rate of eighty per cent on the contrast value of the work to be performed, the remaining twenty per cent to be paid over to the contrastor upon the faithful execution of the work, which is to be completed on or before the first day of November. 1853. The proposals which are to be sealed and endorsed, will state the price per cubic yard excavated and removed, as aforeasid.
